

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Media Contact
Tessa Tavares Costa
(904) 786-6369 x512
tcosta@onpaysolutions.com

Payment Automation Company Hires Chief Revenue Officer

JACKSONVILLE, Fla- September 21, 2016

– OnPay Solutions, a nationally accredited AICPA service organization and business-to-business payment automation company headquartered in Jacksonville, Florida, has appointed Greg Hawes as its chief revenue officer.

“We are thrilled to have Greg Hawes as a new addition to our team,” Neal Anderson, CEO of OnPay Solutions said. “The experience Greg brings from years of financial sales operations and business development is exactly what we need to grow in this competitive landscape.”

Hawes joins the OnPay Solutions team with more than 20 years of consultative sales, sales operations, business development, account management and finance experience.

Hawes graduated from Bryant University (1985) in Smithfield, Rhode Island with a Bachelor’s of Science, majoring in Accounting. He continued to earn a Master’s of Science in Financial Management at Fairfield University (1992). Hawes’ professional career started in 1985 as an auditor for Ernst & Young, later becoming the vice president of sales and operations at ADP for 14 years. Since then, he has held numerous executive positions with companies such as Monster, Ceridian Corporation and Comdata.

“I worked on the OnPay Solutions partnership with Comdata and know the company very well. I see huge potential for this company. I am thrilled to not only start at the same time the new, cloud-based payment automation platform, OnPayConnect™ is introduced, but pleased to also be a part of leading the company’s revenue growth. Hawes says.”

About OnPay Solutions

OnPay Solutions has been creating and offering business-to-business payment software and payment web services to enhance efficiency and productivity for Accounts Payable.

OnPay's payment automation products and services help businesses make payments in the most efficient way possible all while allowing them to remain bank-neutral. OnPay Solutions provides software solutions, hosted solutions, consulting services and outsourced check printing services to help business achieve maximum efficiency and even a revenue stream back into their accounts payable department.

###